Poston Warns Eldorado It Must Not Let Up

Community Receives Freedom Foundation Award at Meeting

The community of Eldorado last night received its Freedom's Foundation award at a meeting where the man who was the driving force behind the city's program warned that the community must not let up.

T. Leo Dodd, president of the Eldorado Community Development association who went to Valley Forge, Pa., to accept the Freedom's Foundation top award for community activity, turned the George Washington Honor Medal over to Mayor John D. Upchurch and the $1,000 check which he also received to C. E. Adams, chairman of the association's Finance committee.

The meeting was held in the Eldorado high school auditorium. Must Keep Up Work

Richard W. Poston, the Southern Illinois university community development expert who since 1953 has advised the community during the Operation Bootstrap, was the principal speaker who told the people that they must keep up the work they have started.

He outlined the fundamental reasons "why Eldorado is nationally significant" and emphasized "the vast responsibility this significance entails."

Pointing to the fact Democracy is at work in Eldorado, Mr. Poston said that today Democracy is losing ground inside the nation.

"People have turned their backs on community responsibility," he said. "Apathy is spreading throughout the nation. People have lost confidence in their own ability."

"Many say flatly," he continued, "they don't have time to do anything, and there are others who will do all they can to undermine whatever program is up. Then there is the third group, the ostriches, who refuse to admit there is anything wrong."

Dodd Tells of Trip

Pointing to the perils of such types in all communities, Mr. Poston said the Communists are dreaming that our Democracy is not capable of meeting the total needs and asked:

"Are we doing our part to help these Communistic dreams come true?"

Declaring that Democracy is like religion—"you have to work at it to make it a success"—Mr. Poston stated that "to what extent our communities are weak, to that extent will our nation be weak."

Mr. Dodd told of his trip to Valley Forge, of sitting and conversing with big names in the country.

"But I found out that we (Mr. and Mrs. Dodd) didn't have to take a back seat to anybody, as we were representing a community," Mr. Dodd stated.

He said that as he received the award "it was a great moment but not as great as now for we were the custodian of the honor and I now give it to those who deserve it."

Others on Program

He then presented the check to Mr. Adams and the medal to Mayor Upchurch, who stated "No mayor of Eldorado in the past or future has had or will have the privilege of accepting a more meaningful award."

Others who appeared on the program, for which Charles W. Brannum was master of ceremonies, included A. W. Summers, Gill Montgomery, E. H. Webster, Louis Aaron, Rev. Austin Heuver, Dr. Clark R. Yost, the Golden Key quartet and the Eldorado Community Choral group.

Dr. Yost was recipient of the Valley Forge Freedom's Foundation award for Sermon in 1949.

Chest X-Rays Made Possible Through Taxes and Sale of Christmas Seals

The community x-ray programs now in full swing in White, Gallatin and Saline counties are offering free chest x-rays to every adult in the county, 15 years of age or over. In these days of rising costs and high payments for every possible service, it is natural for some readers to ask, "How come it's free?" The answer is the residents of the community, have paid in advance for this campaign to make the county a healthier place in which to live.

This x-ray program is possible through payment of taxes and through purchases of Christmas Seals.

Funds from the sale of Christmas Seals are the sole support of one of the sponsors of the program, the White, Gallatin and Saline County Tuberculosis associations which conducts a year-round program of tuberculosis prevention and control. The associations are contributing their knowledge and experience, as well as funds, toward the success of these county-wide campaigns to find unknown cases of tuberculosis and check the spread of this costly disease.

Other finances for the program are contributed by the Illinois State Department of Public Health and the Egyptian Health Department, which is supported through tax payments.

It takes only a few moments to get a chest x-ray. You have the right to know for sure that your lungs are healthy.

The minority in whom the chest x-ray will uncover tuberculosis will be, in a sense, reaping the highest dividends of all. For it will mean that they will be able to get right to work toward regaining complete health before the disease has gone too far.

Every citizen owes it to himself and his community to take full advantage of this opportunity.

Resume Pumping Operations at City Reservoirs

Pumping from Middle Fork into the city reservoirs was resumed this morning after a state health engineer who examined the bacteria tests said the water was in very good condition.

With backwater filling the creek due to a high Ohio river, there was some doubt as to the quality of the water. But, said Amos Doorn, superintendent of the water and sewer department, 15 tests made over an 18-hour period were examined by a state engineer and he pronounced the water all right.

The backwater put Middle Fork at a stage of 17.52 at 7 a. m. today and there was rain to come down on top of this. Rainfall early today measured .69 inch in Harrisburg and .70 inch at Galatia at 7 a. m. Doorn estimated that six or more days of operating the big pumps would fill up the two reservoirs. However, he pointed out, there is a leak in the south reservoir and that when the water level reaches a stage in this body of water where it starts leaking out, operations should stop there.

Girl 'Borrows' Man's Heart in Rare Operation

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP) — Penny Rae Raymond, a playful seven-year-old girl, "borrowed" the heart and lungs of a 41-year-old man today in a rare operation to give her a normal life.

Dr. C. Walton Lillehei and a team of surgeons at the University of Minnesota were to sew up two small holes in the little Waukesha, Wis., girl's heart.

The holes failed to close when Penny Rae was born and blood rushed through her heart into the main blood stream, causing congestion.

A friend of Penny Rae's family, Ted Goodman of Waukesha, lay on a nearby operating table as the operation began.

He was placed under an anesthetic and his circulatory system was connected with Penny Rae's through plastic tubes.

The doctors then planned to tie off the little girl's heart and send Goodman's red, purified blood coursing through Penny Rae's arteries. The little girl's lungs were collapsed, but a simple mechanical pump kept the blood moving.

Meanwhile, Penny Rae's dark, venous blood was purified into Goodman's body for circulation in his lungs and other organs. Thus, Penny Rae used Goodman's heart and lungs to stay alive while surgeons did the repair work on her own bloodless, still-beating heart.

Penny Rae has always realized she wasn't as well as other little girls, her mother said.

"Penny Rae knows the story," she said. "We told her she had to have the operation to be able to play with her friends and ride a bike. She has very much faith and no fear."

Seek to Prevent Sharp Decline in Hog Prices

WASHINGTON — A bill aimed at preventing sharp declines in market prices for hogs and cattle was introduced Monday by Rep. Sid Simpson (R-Ill.). It would not bar price increases.

Simpson, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, said something should be done to "stabilize the market" and stop the "downward trend" in hog prices.

Otherwise, he said in a statement, producers will sell their brood sows and there will be a pork shortage within six months or a year.

The bill would make it unlawful for stockyard buyers to pay less than a prescribed minimum. The minimum would be set 15 cents per 100 pounds below the previous day's average price for hogs and 25 cents below the previous day's average for cattle.

Storm System Hits Nation's Midsection

By United Press

A vast storm system which battered the dusty plains states with a tornado, hail, and lashing rains stretched across the nation's midsection today.

In the Southland, forestry experts hoped a cold front would swing down far enough to dampen raging fires which have burned out about 175,000 acres of timberland in Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

The storm system boiled out of the Southwest late Monday, sending a tornado crashing through Northwest Missouri for three miles.

Kansas Gets Rain

The twister hit 49 miles east of St. Joseph and flipped over a house trailer. Its occupant, Mrs. Glen Jones, 32, suffered severe shock, bruises and lacerations.

State police said the trailer was located on the farm of Leonard Jones, who lost his home and all his farm buildings.

At Atchison, Kan., 1.05 inches of rain laced with hail stones fell in just 20 minutes. Hail stones as big as 25 cent pieces pounded Cleveland, Okla., and high winds, rain and hail were reported throughout the state's northeast portion.

In eastern Colorado, the storm took the form of 50 to 60 mile-per-hour winds which kicked up dust clouds reminiscent of the disastrous dust storms which raked the "Dust Bowl" area last week.

Paducah Gets Flood Crest

More flood waters rolled along the Ohio River, but they had lost the punch which drove thousands of persons from their homes last week in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, and West Virginia.

The Ohio was expected to crest at Paducah, Ky., late today and at Cairo, Ill., Wednesday. In Indiana, 100 New Albany residents were still unable to get back into their homes, but the river was falling rapidly in other Hoosier cities.

Carl Corries Sell Home on Rt. 13, Buy in Dorris Heights

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Corrie, who live on Rt. 13 west of Harrisburg, have sold their home there to Mrs. Norma Murphy, who resides at the Housing project and will occupy her new home early in April. The sale of the Corrie estate was negotiated by Ernie Real Estate Brokers.

Mr. and Mrs. Corrie have bought the Mearl Guard property at Dorris Heights and plan to move there the last of this month. Mr. and Mrs. Guard will move to the large Wilmoth home, also at Dorris Heights, and a well known landmark.

Mrs. Murphy is the widow of Ted Murphy Jr., former Eldorado school teacher, who was killed in Detroit, Mich., several months ago where he had gone to work as a window washer.

New Special Investigator Assigned Here

A new special investigator has been assigned to the Harrisburg area by the Bureau of Internal Revenue to succeed the late Byron T. Fisher, who died several weeks ago.

The new official is C. B. Annis, who was transferred here from Chicago. He will work the area with his office in the rooms at the city hall occupied by the income tax office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Lake Cabin Site Ordinance Read At City Council

Oil Representative Seeks Leases on Lake Harrisburg Area

The Harrisburg city council this morning gave first reading to a Lake Harrisburg cabin site ordinance and heard an oil-leasing representative express interest in leasing the Lake Harrisburg area.

The cabin site ordinance will be given final passage probably in two weeks but applications can be made with the city clerk now. Applicants must be residents of the City of Harrisburg.

Mayor Horning said that surveying of lots is continuing and that there will be more than 70 cabin sites available.

The lots will be leased for a period of 20 years, the fee to be $35 the first year, payable in advance, and $20 a year for the following 19 years.

The ordinance says that there shall be no firearms, no motorboats, no open toilets and provides fines for violators. It also provides fines for persons who fail to keep their premises clean.

Seeks 3-Year Leases

The leases can be surrendered to the city at any time the person desires, and they can be transferred at the stated fee for leasing. There also is a renewal privilege provided for in the ordinance.

Also given first reading was a related ordinance, which will give the Southeastern Illinois Electric cooperative rights-of-way for lines in the Lake Harrisburg area.

Present to discuss leasing the land the city owns for oil development was a Mr. Bruce of Evansville, who said he was getting up leases for the Phillips Petroleum Co. He is seeking three-year leases and said he was prepared to pay $12.50 an acre for the first year and a dollar a year for the next two years.

The council, which said there would have to be strong regulations to protect the water supply if there were any leasing done, turned Mr. Bruce over to City Attorney D. F. Rumsey.

The city owns a large portion of the mineral rights under the lake area although there was some acreage where it could not secure these rights when buying up land for the lake.

McCarthy Renews Old Feud With Administration as New Peress Hearing Opens

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), renewing an old feud that sparked last year's Army-McCarthy hearing, charged today that high administration officials "successfully conspired" to stop his investigation of former Army Maj. Irving Peress.

He also asserted that President Eisenhower signed a "blackout order" forbidding administration officials to talk about a Jan. 21, 1954 meeting. At the meeting, McCarthy said, representatives of the White House, the Army and the Justice Department mapped plans to block hearings on the Peress case and "start an investigation of McCarthy."

McCarthy's charges came at the start of a new, Democratic-controlled investigation of the Army's handling of the Peress case. He urged the Senate investigating subcommittee to question the administration officials present at the Jan. 21, 1954, meeting which figured prominently in the Army-McCarthy hearings.

MARY PREFERS MARILYN, TOO—Retired Actress Mary Pickford, shown at right in a 1921 photo when she ruled as "America's Sweetheart," has picked the girl she wants to portray her life on the screen, if and when a movie of her is made. The girl is Marilyn Monroe, left, whom Miss Pickford thinks could play the role "better than most actresses in Hollywood."

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

DREW PEARSON Says: Mr. Sam Puts The Country Before Policies; Mr. Sam Pushes Ike's Policies; But Ike Calls Him "Irresponsible." Secretary Talbott Watches Over His Air Force And The Taxpayers' Dollar.

WASHINGTON. — Here are two recent significant episodes in the constantly unfolding drama of Washington:

Scene I — The office of Speaker Sam Rayburn. A delegation of rebel Democrats had come to see him. Democratic Leader John McCormick of Boston had warned them not to, but they came anyway. They didn't like the way the Democratic leadership was passing the Formosan resolution, giving Eisenhower unlimited power, without even any debate.

"I agree he doesn't need the resolution," replied the Speaker when his Democratic friends urged him to go slow. "He already has the power. But I want to show the world that we have a united country."

"This is just a method of sucking the Democrats in on whatever trouble he gets us into around Formosa," the Democratic delegation argued.

"Maybe so," shot back Mr. Sam, "but the country comes first. We're not going to play politics. I remember how the Republicans patted Truman on the back when he first went into Korea then kicked him in the pants afterward. We're not going to do that."

"OK," argued Congressman Jack Shelly of San Francisco, "we'll pass the resolution, but only after a couple of days of debate. Let the country know the facts."

"No," said Mr. Sam, "we're not going to debate. I don't want one word said against this resolution when it gets to the floor of the House."

That ended that. The Formosan resolution was passed with only one Democrat voting against it.

Scene II — The ballroom of the Statler hotel in Washington. Speaker Sam Rayburn was seated as a guest of honor at the White House correspondents' dinner. Three seats away as the chief guest of honor was President Eisenhower, the man Rayburn had saved on his Formosan resolution and on reciprocal trade, but whose wrath he'd incurred for proposing a $20 tax cut. "Irresponsible" was what Ike called it.

The dinner progressed. There was joviality on all sides. But no conversation between the President and Speaker Rayburn. Once the President got up and briefly left the room, passing right by the Speaker. He did not greet him. He came back, but did not greet him.

At the end of the dinner, he got up, walked by the Speaker again, again did not greet him, stopped a few seats beyond to shake hands with others.

Newsmen at the dinner noted the snub, wondered.

Speaker Sam got up and went home.

IKE AND NEWSPAPERS

Sid Richardson, the big Texas oil man who is extremely close to Eisenhower, telephoned Speaker Sam Rayburn the other day. He caught the Speaker just after Ike had denounced him for "fiscal irresponsibility" and for "lacking the courage" to put his $20 tax cut in a separate bill. The Speaker was frankly sore.

"What does Eisenhower mean," he told Richardson, "by saying I am irresponsible. By saying I put through the reciprocal trade treaty they thought differently down at the White House. When I passed that Formosan resolution for him it saved Ike's neck. But when I push a $20 tax reduction to give the little fellow a break, I am 'irresponsible'."

"The trouble with Eisenhower," replied Sid Richardson, "is he probably didn't even know you passed the reciprocal trade treaty for him. The boys around him forgot to tell him. Don't forget Ike never reads the newspapers."

DOLLAR-WATCHING TALBOTT
When the President sent a message to Congress the other day asking that it renew the Renegotiation Act to permit scaling down high defense contracts when too high, a newspaperman called the White House to ask what had changed the President's mind.

The answer was: "We read Drew Pearson's column."

This referred to the report, published in this column, that Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks had persuaded the White House not to renew the Renegotiation Act, though Truman had always insisted that it be renewed.

The truth, however, probably is that Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott had much more to do with renewing the renegotiation act than this column. For it's true that Ike seldom reads the papers.

More important, it's also true that Talbott, a millionaire who's made plenty of money in airplanes, automobiles and other businesses before he got into government, is a tough, forthright protector of the public interest now that he's working for the public. He's been alarmed at the skyrocketing profits of some airplane companies and wrote a strong memo to his chief, Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson, urging that the Renegotiation Act be continued.

Talbott laid it right on the line, as follows:

"The Renegotiation Act is particularly important during this period to prevent excessive profits."

"In the light of the continuing high level of military expenditures for procurement, the public interest will best be served by a renewed extension of the act. I urge that the Department of Defense vigorously support the extension of this important legislation."

Note—When Talbott was first appointed Air Force secretary, this column cast a critical eye on his background. It's now a pleasure to even up the score by reporting that Talbott has been an efficient, though sometimes undiplomatic, crusader for the Air Force and a scrupulous defender of the taxpayer's dollar.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Winston Churchill has requested John Foster Dulles to suppress the records of the Yalta conference for the next 10 years. However, a certain State Department official is smuggling a set of the galley proofs to Senator Knowland with the expectation that they will soon appear in the U. S. News and World Report. . . . Unlike some romances, the marriage of the Veep to his young wife, Jane, hasn't cooled an iota. At a recent dinner, Jane Barkley came up to her husband, now the senator from Kentucky. "Oh Alben," she said, "just heard you made a wonderful speech. I heard you interrupted Wayne Morse on the Senate floor and were really eloquent about Hells Canyon." . . . Barkley had told Morse privately that he couldn't sign his bill for government development of the Hells Canyon power project because he didn't believe in multiple-sponsorship of legislation. (Thirty senators had already signed the bill). But he promised Morse he would make a speech supporting him, and did so—eloquently. . . . Senator Olin Johnston could have spotlighted the number of security risks found in the State Department under his old enemy and fellow South Carolinian, Jimmie Byrnes, but he didn't. The two don't like each other politically but in deference to Byrnes personally, he kept Jimmie out of it.

Benson Opposes Any Attempt to Restore Rigid Farm Supports

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said today he will "actively oppose" any attempt by Congress to restore rigid 90 per cent parity price supports for basic crops.

"I am hopeful that the President will back me up," Benson told a news conference.

"High rigid supports are not a remedy for a price decline," Benson said. "Instead, they are a stabilizer, not a price fixer." Parity is a price calculated to give the farmer a theoretically fair return for his crops in comparison with the cost of things he must buy. The government guaranteed parity support payments of 90 per cent through a decade ending last year. Support prices on five basic crops—wheat, corn, cotton, peanuts, and rice—now range from 82½ to 90 per cent.

Benson predicted there would be no increase in allotments for wheat next year over the 55-million-acre minimum set by law.

Dayton Favored Over St. Louis in NIT; Cincinnati Trips Niagara in Overtimes

NEW YORK (AP)—Dayton was a six-point choice over record-smashing St. Louis and St. Francis, Pa. a one-point pick over defending champion Holy Cross in tonight's quarter-final games of the National Invitation Tournament—but they could well feel the fate of Niagara.

Niagara, a four-point choice, was upset in double-overtime by Cincinnati, 85-83, in a quarter-final game after top-seeded Duquesne had opened the round by whipping Louisville, 74-66.

Duquesne and fourth-seeded Cincinnati will meet in one of the semi-final games in the big post-season carnival at Madison Square Garden on Thursday night. Tonight's winners will clash in the other semifinal.

Cincinnati, an underdog despite its seeding since it had lost four straight games, stunned and thrilled a crowd of about 8,000 by rallying from a 17-point deficit to deadlock Niagara at 78-78 in regulation time and 82-82 at the end of the first overtime. Then Frank Nimmo's leaping push shot and a free throw by Bill Lammet gave the Bearcats their winning margin in the second overtime, when Niagara's only score was a free throw by Tommy Hemans.

Plunkett 'Plunks' 22
And the key to the victory was this: Cincinnati out-rebounded the nation's best rebounding team, 52 to 51.

A major factor in the rebounding triumph was the brawn of 6-foot-7 Dave Plunkett and 6-foot-4 Phil Wheeler. High-jumping Charley Hoxie and Ed Fleming of Niagara grew leaden-legged after jumping with this pair. Plunkett led Cincinnati scorers with 22 points, but Hoxie took game honors with 28.

As for Duquesne, the title favorite got their winning break, as Coach Donald (Dudey) Moore freely admitted "when their Johnny Prudhoe collected his fourth personal foul and our Dick Ricketts didn't."

The 6-foot-9 Prudhoe and 6-foot-8 Charlie Tyra were giving Louisville an edge in rebounding and the Cardinals held a 39-36 lead when Long John was tagged with personal No. 4 at the three-minute mark in the second half. In his 5½ minute absence, Duquesne broke loose and rolled up a 51-43 lead. Louisville challenged again, but never could make up this handicap.

All-America Ricketts was skating on the same thin ice as Prudhoe, for he was tagged with his third personal late in the first half. He sat out the last four minutes of that session while Duquesne stalled. He returned to start the second half. When the whistle blew at the three-minute mark, it was for Prudhoe and not Ricketts—and that could easily have been the game.

Heinsohn Versus Stokes
St. Green, with a brilliant performance, led Duquesne with 23 points while Ricketts added 20, and Tyra was tops for Louisville with 16. Neither Ricketts nor Green seem hampered by recent injuries and illness. Green turned his ankle during the game, but it did not appear serious.

Like Cincinnati, Holy Cross is an underdog on recent weak form all through seeded third. The defending champions compiled a 19-6 record during the regular season, while St. Francis has a 20-5 mark, including a sharp 89-75 opening round win over Seton Hall.

This game will feature a clash of two star centers of All-America calibre—Tom Heinsohn of Holy Cross and Maurice Stokes of St. Francis.

St. Louis is an underdog although it smashed the Garden team scoring record in beating Connecticut, 110-103, in the opening round. The Billikens, co-champions of the Missouri Valley Conference, have a record of 20-7, but Dayton has a huge height advantage with 7-foot Bill Uhl and 6-foot-8 Johnny Horan in the lineup.

Dayton's strength can be measured by this—it beat top-seeded Duquesne two out of three during the regular season. Both Dayton and Holy Cross had first-round byes.

Air Force Unveils Guided Missile with 'Brain' of Its Own
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force unveiled a supersonic guided missile today that can "think" for itself and soon will be available to destroy enemy bombers at great distances from American targets.

Making public first official details on the Falcon guided aircraft rocket (GAR), the Air Force described it as "the smallest guided missile in production and the only air-to-air missile with a 'brain' of its own."

The slender, six-foot, blunt-nosed rocket will be carried beneath the wing of such high-speed interceptor planes as the new F102 and possibly the present F89. Both are long-range, all-weather jet fighters.

The Falcon, under development by Hughes Aircraft Co. since 1947, soon will become a part of the regular armament of some interceptor units, the Air Force said.

Movies shown reporters revealed how the guided rocket, pointed on its way by the launching airplane, pursues its target despite effort by the bomber to evade it. World War II B17 target drones disintegrated as the Falcon plowed into them. The Air Force said similar results have been achieved against jet propelled targets.

Hunt Father Who Shot, Kidnaped Daughter, 14
QUINCY, Ill. (AP)—Police in five states hunted today for a father who kidnaped his 14-year-old daughter after shooting her and two other persons.

The fugitive was identified as Leroy (Tag) Eberle, 39, described by police as armed with two shotguns and considered dangerous.

Police said Eberle was reported for drunken driving Sunday night, shortly before he returned home and had an argument with his daughter, Pat, a freshman at Quincy High School.

Pat, whose mother died last November, left the house and went to the home of Mrs. Ruth Likes. Police said Eberle followed his daughter to the Likes home and fired five shotgun blasts into the house, wounding Pat, Mrs. Likes and her daughter, Myrna.

He then forced Pat, not believed seriously injured, into his car and drove off, police said.

Mrs. Likes and her daughter were reported in good condition at Blessing Hospital here.

A five-state alarm was issued in Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Missouri, and Oklahoma. Quincy police obtained a warrant charging Eberle with assault with intent to kill.

West Will Defend With A-Weapons Against Attack
PARIS (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme Allied commander in Europe, said today Western military commanders have the right to defend themselves with atomic weapons against an all-out attack without consulting civilian governments.

Gruenther spoke to a group of SHAPE correspondents at the organization's headquarters just outside Paris. In answer to a question whether Allied commanders would consult each of the 14 nations in case of Soviet attack before using their atomic weapons, he said:

"It is generally recognized that if he has to, a military commander can do anything necessary to protect his troops, in case of attack. I would say that he could act within that decision."

MANTLE HITS GRAND SLAM HOMER IN YANKEE WIN

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The New York Yankees owned their first Grapefruit league victory of the spring today along with the knowledge that there's nothing seriously wrong with centerfielder Mickey Mantle.

Mantle, who had gone hitless in 12 trips and struck out seven times in four losing games, blasted a grand slam homer, collected three other hits and drove in six runs as the Yankees downed the Milwaukee Braves, 12-11, Monday.

Bill Skowron also homered for the Yankees while Joe Adcock hit two homers for Milwaukee.

KANSAS CITY A'S LOSE FOURTH STRAIGHT

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau hoped today that the Kansas City Athletics' Grapefruit league showing is no indication of what to expect from the team during the American league campaign.

The Athletics, who have yet to present their new manager with his first victory, bowed for the fourth straight time to the Chicago White Sox, 9-3, Monday.

SUFFERS BAD BRUISE WHEN HIT BY BALL

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Faye Throneberry, listed as a possible replacement for Ted Williams, was on "limited duty" today when the Boston Red Sox opposed their one-time cross-city rival Milwaukee Braves.

Throneberry suffered a bad bruise above his right knee Monday when struck by a line drive off Jackie Jensen's bat.

MINOSO, CARRASQUEL IN A-1 SHAPE

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox's two key men were in A-1 shape today as Manager Marty Marion planned only a light workout.

Minnie Minoso continued his hard hitting with two blows and shortstop Chico Carrasquel chipped in with several brilliant defensive plays Monday as the White Sox routed the Kansas City A's, 9-3.

The White Sox have won three of five exhibition games.

SENATORS' HURLERS WELL ADVANCED

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Manager Charley Dresen boasted the most advanced pitching staff in the majors today as his Washington Senators played an intra-squad game for the second straight day.

Camilo Pascual and Chuck Stobbs each worked six innings in Monday's intra-camp game, joining Frank Shea as among the most advanced pitchers in the South.

No other team has three pitchers who have worked six innings.

TIGERS FAIL TO SHOW BATTING POWER

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Manager Bucky Harris was concerned today with the Detroit Tigers' failure to flash batting power as they met the St. Louis Cardinals seeking their third victory in six exhibition games.

The Tigers had scored only 19 runs and connected for only two home runs while dropping three of their five Grapefruit league games. They bowed to the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-1, Monday.

FURILLO, ERSKINE NEAR BEST FORM

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Outfielder Carl Furillo and pitcher Carl Erskine indicated today they are fast approaching their best form.

Furillo, generally a slow spring starter, drove in three runs with a home run and two singles Monday night in leading the Dodgers to a 6-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. Erskine made his spring debut by pitching an easy three-inning stint.

Williams Tours With SIU Nine

Fred Williams, Carrier Mills, is a member of the Southern Illinois university baseball team now on a southern training and playing trip.

Williams, who starred with the Carrier Mills high school basketball and baseball teams, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Whitney.

The SIU baseballers left last week for a trip that will take them as far south as Louisiana. In addition to practice sessions, the team will play six games with southern college outfits. The team is due back in time for the start of the spring term of school next Monday.

Williams is an infielder.

Genisio Likes Rating of Underdog For Shawneetown in Sweet 16

By BOB ULLRICH
United Press Sports Writer

SHAWNEETOWN, Ill. (AP)—"Everybody rates us as underdogs but that's all right with us. We like it that way."

That was Barney Genisio speaking as he discussed the chances of his Shawneetown Indians in the state high school basketball tournament at Champaign this week.

Shawneetown is the "little David" of the "Sweet Sixteen" and there is almost something magical about the way the 29-year-old coach brought the Indians undefeated through 31 games this season.

"Everybody said we never played any tough competition," Genisio said. "But we showed them at Marion."

Shawneetown high school's enrollment is about 180 students and during the regular season they played schools of similar size.

"I'm not saying we're going to win it but we are going up there and do our best," Genisio said. "I'm not pushing the kids. They know me and I know them."

Coached Boys in Grade School
Genisio and his team should be well acquainted by now. He coached 7 of his 10 varsity players when they were in grade-school before he took over as high school coach two years ago.

Three of the starting five—center Bobby Spotsville and guards Alfred Gunzel and Garrison Newsum—were on his grade school team. Forward Jack Nolen went to grade school in the "old" section of Shawneetown on the Ohio river. Forward Ronnie Joyner attended a rural school.

Nolen at 6 foot 4 and Spotsville at 6 foot 2 are the top rebounders for the Indians. Nolen's tip-in that tied Herrin in the semifinal of the Marion sectional tournament that Shawneetown won in overtime was the payoff on long hours of practice on rebounding, tip-ins and jumping.

Nolen leads the Indians in scoring with an 18.4 average. Newsum is second with 13.6 and Spotsville has 13.1. The team has averaged 58.6 over the season.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—American league batting champion Bobby Avila threatened today to go into private life as an engineer if the Cleveland Indians don't meet his salary demands.

Avila, who is believed to be asking for $32,000, was en route to his Vera Cruz, Mexico, home following an unsuccessful conference with General Manager Hank Greenberg.

The Indians meanwhile, were seeking their third victory in four games with the New York Giants today when they resumed their 18-game "Arizona World Series."

Motorist Fined After Complaints Of Reckless Driving

A motorist a half dozen persons reported almost simultaneously to city police was driving all over the street was arrested by City Police-man Pat Atkinson at 4:20 p. m. yesterday and was fined a total of $111.40.

After a number of persons saw the car weaving from one side of the street to the other Don Williams saw Atkinson near the post office and told him was going on. He picked up the officer and the two found the car on West South street, where it had run into a curb and burst a tire.

Taken to the city hall the man was identified as Marvin Randolph of Christopher, who said he was taking some pills given him by a doctor.

Taken before Police Magistrate Charles McKenzie he pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving and was fined $100 and costs.

carry the scoring," Genisio said. "But they'll be different for almost every game."

Pressure No Bother
"I don't think all five have ever gotten 'hot' at the same time. If they did, I don't think anybody could stop us."

Genisio said he didn't think the pressure of the state finals would bother his team much if any. He was more worried before they left for Champaign today about the cold symptoms and sore throats that bothered four of his starters and planned to have them take cold shots before starting out.

Shawneetown meets Rich Township Wednesday afternoon. Genisio said he had never seen Rich play but received a volunteer scouting report from an upstate individual "who has seen them play and seems to want us to win."

He said that, from the information his unidentified scout gave him, Shawneetown should have no trouble with Roger Taylor, Rich's high point man.

Genisio said he hadn't made any special preparation for the tournament. "We're as ready as we'll ever be and we'll play them as they come and do our best," he said.

Big Ten Will Comply With New TV Plan

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten will comply with the NCAA football television plan this fall, a conference spokesman today said, but it might market its own regional program on the five Saturdays such games will be permitted.

The conference also decided to pool the television rights of all members with the Television committee handling negotiations for video rights. All receipts will go into a fund to be divided equally among the 10 members.

Conference athletic directors and faculty representatives determined their policy toward the NCAA program in a five-hour session Monday immediately after the national plan was announced to the public.

The conference secretary, Paul J. Blommer, Iowa faculty representative, was instructed to cast the Big Ten vote in favor of the proposal.

NCAA members were to vote this week on the drastically changed plan for 1955. Two-thirds of those voting must favor the program for it to become effective.

It provides for eight days on which games will be shown nationally, with the possibility that two games will be shown on a divided network on two of these dates, and for five days on which no games may cross the boundaries of seven defined regions.

The Big Ten plan to sell a "package" of conference games for the regional days could be complicated because no school may appear more than twice, once nationally and once regionally, or twice regionally.

The Big Ten could rule out the chance for its major teams to appear nationally by committing them to two regional appearances. Or, it was pointed out, the conference could sell an exclusive regional package and refrain from participating in the national plan on any day.

The regional plan also would permit the Big Ten to display more than one of its games on television on any one Saturday. However, it was unlikely such an arrangement would be worked out for fear that "we'd be competing against ourselves."

REDS BEAT RED SOX ON FOUR HITTER, 1-0
FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs' power-packed batting order guarantees a good season if the team has reasonably good pitching—and Manager Birdie Tebbetts had good cause today to feel that his mound situation won't be as bad as some of his critics have predicted.

Corky Valentine, Gerry Staley and rookie Jerry Lane collaborated in a four-hitter Monday as the Redlegs shaded the Boston Red Sox, 1-0.

The Redlegs scored their run in the ninth inning without hitting a ball out of the infield with the aid of three Red Sox errors.

The Redlegs play the Pittsburgh Pirates today seeking their fourth victory in four Grapefruit league contests. The Pirates bowed Monday to the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2, at Clearwater, Fla.

Snapshots of Sweet Sixteen

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Snapshots from the Sweet Sixteen:

Attention Rockford West: Beware of Decatur, your first-round foe at Champaign Thursday.

The Reds have played in 10 state tournaments under veteran Coach Gay Kintner, and only twice have they dropped their opening contest. The teams that turned the trick were Paris in 1938 and West Frankfort in 1943.

If a comparison of sectional tournament scores is a gauge, this year's finalists are a lower scoring bunch than those of 1954.

In the 15 sectional championship games and the Chicago playoff final a year ago, a total of 1,940 points was scored—an average of 121.3 per game. Winning teams got 1,044 points, an average of 65.3 and won by a margin averaging 9.3 points.

In last Friday's sectional finals and Chicago playoff, 1,852 points were tallied, 115.8 per game. Winners got 1,022 points, or 63.9 per game and averaged a 12-point victory margin. Only the margin of victory was above 1954.

Fans will get to see only one player who made the 1954 United Press all-tourney team in action at this year's classic. He's Whitely Verstraete, Moline's fine forward, who was on the U. P. second team.

Pinckneyville can truly claim to be the jinx of Centralia, which has some fine teams in recent years but can't get to Champaign. In the last eight meetings of the two teams, Pinckneyville has come out on top six times. And what hurts Centralia is that three of those Pinckneyville victories came in the sectional tournaments of 1953, 1954 and 1955.

Only three of the Sweet Sixteen are repeaters from 1954—an unusually small number. They're Moline, Pinckneyville and Princeton. Moline has five players who went to Champaign last year still on its roster. Pinckneyville seven and Princeton five.

Almost everybody in Peoria is happy about Spalding's trip to the Sweet Sixteen except perhaps the girls of the Academy of Our Lady. The girls consider themselves entitled to share in any glory won by Spalding because they are feminine cheering section for the all-boys school. But the IHSA allotted only 400 tickets to Spalding based on the school's enrollment, not counting the sister school, and most of the girls will be left behind.

Galesburg and Lincoln will have the poorest records of teams in the finals, both have won 17, lost 11. Shawneetown, of course, has the only unbeaten mark (31-0), followed by Princeton (30-1) and Rockford West (24-1).

Presbyterian Five Entertained with Hamburger Supper
Members of the Presbyterian church basketball team, champions of the 14-year-old division of the church-sponsored basketball tournament in Harrisburg, were entertained at a hamburger supper at the church Monday evening.

The affair was sponsored by the members of the Board of Deacons of the Presbyterian church and preceded the regular monthly meeting of the board.

The six-player squad was composed of Roger Wiley, Walter Thompson, Paul Miller, George Wright, Eric Hansen and Eddie Quade and the team coach was Eddie Seright.

Members of the Board of Deacons present were Roy Wise, Bill Melton, John Uiter, Bob Roy Brown, Dale Sullivan, James Arnsman, Ed Martin, John Jarrell, Edward Harned, B. W. Henley and Cecil Wasson and Rev. John Emig, church pastor.

Pinckneyville (30-2) vs. Alton (24-7)
For five straight years Pinckneyville has been a visitor to Champaign and it looks like this club is as tough as its predecessors.

Coach Merrill (Duster) Thomas has three starters left from the team that copped third in the 1954 state tourney—6-2 Arlen Hill, 6-3 Don Margenthaler, and 6-0 Jim Lezenby. His other two first stringers are 6-4 sophomores Alex Singer and John Daffron.

Thomas' teams play a deliberate brand of ball offensively and usually use a zone defense, though the wily coach frequently will switch the pattern of play if circumstances call for it.

Alton has dropped seven games, but its victories in championship

West Rockford May Have Hands Full With Gay Kintner's Decatur Team

Editor's Note—This is the second of two dispatches on first round games in the Sweet Sixteen. This dispatch covers the lower bracket.

By United Press
Decatur (24-4) vs. Rockford West (24-1)

Rockford West, the "experts'" choice for the crown, may have its hands full against the co-champion of the Big 12.

Three big boys make up Decatur's front line—6-6 Jim Maguire, 6-5 Carroll Larry and 6-0 Jim Lee. Larry is touted as the most valuable Decatur player since George Riley of the 1945 team.

Decatur is usually a shoot-and-run ball club. But the Reds have been thoroughly coached by veteran Gay Kintner, and also are experts at ball control.

Rockford West boasts three of northern Illinois' top players in Junior Nolden Gentry, 6-6, a fine rebounder, passer and scorer; 6-6 center John Wessels, and 6-5 forward Fred Boshele. Other stars are 6-1 guard Rex Parker and 6-0 guard Rod Coffman.

West promises to offer a threat again next season, too. Gentry, Wessels and all five reserves are juniors.

Peoria Spalding (22-5) vs. Lincoln (17-11)
Sophomore Ron Berg, 6-4 center who is the biggest man on Spalding's squad, has been a big factor in the Peoria team's bid for state honors.

The husky Berg came on as tournament showdown time approached to lead the Irish in scoring in both sectional games. He's a good rebounder and scores well from the pivot or from the corners.

Frank Finnegan, a 5-10 guard, is a Spalding jump shot artist. Other starters are 6-1 guard Gene Coughlon, 6-1 forward Frank Karpovitch and 6-3 forward Jack Frasco.

Lincoln started poorly this season but captured the last 10 games in a row. The turning point came about the time Phil Swille, top scorer last season, got into the lineup after recovering from an ankle operation.

Lincoln uses a deliberate, set offensive style, with pass-and-break scoring plays. Center Dave Cadwallader, 6-4 senior, has been a main cog in the attack.

Quincy (19-8) vs. Chicago Marshall (20-2)
Marshall will display one of the biggest players in the tourney, 6-8 center Arthur Day, averaging just under 30 points a game.

Coach Isadore (Spin) Salario reports Day has been hitting on an amazing 70 per cent of his shots and says he has statistics to prove it. The team as a whole shows good balance.

Quincy is one of the veteran entries in the Sweet Sixteen, but this year's squad isn't regarded as highly as most of those in the past, like the 1952 team that included Bruce Brothers.

Center Bill Rineberg and guards Les Kewney and Kent Mittelberg are among the Blue Devils' key players. Kewney and Mittelberg, both regulars from last season, are good at floor work as well as scoring.

CAPTAIN EASY

The Limping Goose
by Frank Gruber
COPYRIGHT 1954 BY FRANK GRUBER. DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Being broke has led Johnny Fletcher and Sam Cragg into another caper. First they were hounded by J. J. Kilkenny, a bill collector. They offered to collect a bill for him from Alice Cummings, a showgirl, who gave them a "limping goose" bank full of old coins in payment. Next Jess Carmichael III is murdered in Alice's apartment. Johnny and Sam call on the father of the murder victim and are retained to run down Lester Smithson, a cousin, who disappeared 12 years ago. James Sutton, another cousin, would be heir to the estate except for Smithson.

XIV
Sam took a headlong plunge at Kilkenny. His head hit Kilkenny's midriff, his left hand struck the bill collector's right arm and closed around it.
Kilkenny cried out hoarsely in pain and the gun clattered to the floor. Johnny scooped it up just as Sam hit Kilkenny a short chopping blow on the chin with his fist.

Both Johnny and Sam stood up. Kilkenny's eyes were closed and he was moaning. Sam prodded him with his bare foot. "I hardly hit you."

Kilkenny got painfully to his feet, but the fight was gone from him. "Gimme my gun," said Kilkenny, holding out his hand.
"Ixnay," said Johnny. "You pull a gun on a man and he takes it away from you, it's his gun."
Kilkenny pointed to the limping goose bank. "At least, can I have that?"

"I just told you—you lost." Kilkenny scowled. "Watch yourself, Fletcher. When you're least expecting me, I'll pop up—and the gorilla won't be around."
"Gorilla!" cried Sam, and made another lunge. But the star of the Acme Adjustment Agency collection force had had enough. He whipped open the hall door and leaped through. Sam, in pajamas, closed the door and whirled back. "That's what I like before breakfast," he cried cheerfully. "A workout."

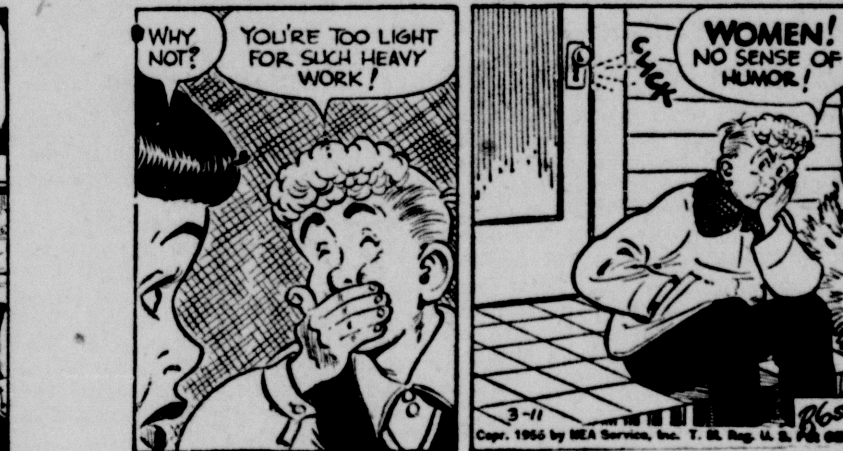

A half hour later Johnny and Sam sat in the Automat, with Sam polishing off his second order of corned beef hash. He looked wistfully across at Johnny. "Suppose I could have another order, Johnny?"

"No, you've had enough to eat now. Sometime during the day I'll get that advance from James Sutton, then you can fill up. Right now, I think we'd better start earning that money."
"Where can you start on a deal like that?"
"The man who could probably tell us more about young Smithson than anyone is old Jess Carmichael." Then, as Sam winced, "He'll probably be busy with the police commissioner this morning. I think maybe we'll try it from the back door."

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.
